BOOK A HOTEL ROOM

The New Orleans Marriott Warehouse Arts District is the Headquarters hotel for the 2024 IADR/AADOCR/CADR General Session, and IADR has negotiated preferred rates with several other hotels within a short distance to the convention center.

A full list of hotel options near the Ernest N. Morial Convention Center are available with rates ranging from $179/night single occupancy to $280/night.

IADR recommended hotels

It is highly recommended that you only use the official housing provider for IADR as you may be charged incorrectly.

Important: No one from any host hotels in New Orleans or the IADR will call you to solicit your hotel reservation. Travel agencies or housing bureaus that indicate they are representing IADR, AADOCR, CADR, the 2024 General Session in New Orleans, or any hotel or unaffiliated hotels, are perpetrating a fraud and are looking to acquire your credit card information. Reservations made by unaffiliated organizations may appear to be for lower rates, however they may be illegitimate, have unreasonable cancellation or change penalties, or may be completely nonrefundable. Please be sure to make reservations directly through the official hotels. If you receive a phone call or email, DO NOT make your hotel reservations by telephone or email. Please be aware of and report any such unauthorized solicitations to Leslie Zeck at lzeck@iadr.org.

JDR CTR Call for Scientific Advisory Board Members 2025-2028

Call for Nominations

JDR Clinical & Translational Research (JDR CTR) is seeking nominees to serve on the JDR CTR Scientific Advisory Board (SAB), January 2025-2028.

JDR CTR is seeking nominees with geographic diversity to represent the IADR membership and JDR CTR authors and readers, in particular nominations are encouraged from Scandinavia, Latin America, Asia, Middle East, and Africa. Nominees should have expertise in research involving populations, clinical, or applied human and translational research.

Roles and responsibilities

SAB members will be expected to:

- Review a minimum of six manuscripts per year submitted to the JDR CTR as invited reviewers by the Editor-in-Chief and the Associate Editor.
- Participate in JDR CTR peer review training sessions.
- Serve as regional SAB representatives to support reviewer recruitment and peer reviewer training webinars.
- Regional representatives will be invited to submit topics for Perspectives articles.
- Support diversity, equality and inclusion activities and strategies to increase the gender, ethnicity, and geographical representation of authors and SAB members.
- Advise the editorial team as we establish regional patient involvement groups/public contributors.

Statement of interest

Nominations for JDR CTR SAB are asked to submit a statement of interest and a recent CV to Lily Knol, lknol@iadr.org by July 1, 2024. Decisions will be communicated to nominees in September 2024.

Looking Back Looking Forward

Oral health in Victoria and Australia 1970 to 2022 and beyond

Looking Back Looking Forward – Oral health in Victoria and Australia 1970 to 2022 and beyond is a forensic examination of changes in oral health, shifts in government policy, professional practice, technological advancements, and public expectations.

With a lens focused firmly on health equity, the book proposes future directions to achieve good oral health for all.

Are governments doing too little too late on dental health?

While often taken for granted, good oral health is fundamental to good mental and physical health. Poor oral health precipitates and perpetuates low self-esteem and adversely affects a person’s ability to eat a nutritious diet, find employment, and engage socially without embarrassment.

NEWS & ANNOUNCEMENTS

IADR Elects Jennifer E. Gallagher as IADR Vice-president

Members of the IADR have elected Jennifer E. Gallagher, King's College London, UK to serve as Vice-president. Her term will commence at the conclusion of the 102nd General Session of the IADR, which will be held in conjunction with the 53rd Annual Meeting of the AADOCR and the 48th Annual Meeting of the Canadian Association for Dental Research, from March 13-16, 2024 in New Orleans, USA.

Gallagher holds the distinguished Newland Pedley Chair in Oral Health Services Research in the Faculty of Dentistry, Oral & Craniofacial Sciences at King's College London, where she is now working as an Ambassador alongside the Vice President for International, Engagement & Service and the Vice-Chancellor of King's. She was awarded an MBE in the late Queen's New Year's Honours List of 2015 for services to oral health.

WHO Adds Noma to List of NTDs

Following a recommendation of the World Health Organization's Strategic and Technical Advisory Group for Neglected Tropical Diseases (STAG-NTD), noma was added to the WHO list of NTDs in December 2023. Noma is a rapidly progressing severe gangrenous disease of the mouth and the face. It mostly affects children aged 2–6 years suffering from malnutrition, affected by infectious diseases, living in extreme poverty with poor oral health or with weakened immune systems. Noma can also occur among immunocompromised adults due to HIV, leukemia, and other diseases. The disease, also called cancrum oris or gangrenous stomatitis, is mostly found in sub-Saharan Africa, although cases have also been reported in Latin America, Asia, and other regions.

WHO Calls for Action Against E-Cigarettes

The World Health Organization calls for urgent action against the use of e-cigarettes. According to the WHO, e-cigarettes as consumer products are not shown to be effective for quitting tobacco use at the population level, but alarming evidence has emerged on adverse population health effects. "Kids are being recruited and trapped at an early age to use e-cigarettes and may get hooked to nicotine," said Dr. Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, WHO Director-General. "I urge countries to implement strict measures to prevent uptake to protect their citizens, especially their children and young people."
